

CORRESPONDENCE.

PAROWAN.

Oct. 8, 1903.

The health of the people in general is good.

The Hall company are making improvements on their opera house.

The carpenters are busy on the new school building getting ready for school to commence next Monday morning.

There are quite a number of our young people away attending school, and more will follow in the near future.

Politicians are commencing to talk primary for the coming city election. Hurrah for the torch lights and the Star Spangled Banner!

Our worthy bishop, Morgan Richards, is attending conference in Salt Lake City, and the district school teachers have gone there for the purpose of attending the Teachers' Convention.

Since the closing of the Iron County Fair everything is back to its normal condition. Farmers are busy in the field, and canyon-men in the canyon. A number of our young men are out at the mines hauling ore, etc.

We have had two inches of rain fall during the past week which has been very beneficial to the Experimental Farm of Iron County, almost insuring success the coming year. Some of the faculty of the Agricultural College are here superintending and instructing our enterprising citizen Richard Rowland in dry land farming.

The teachers engaged to teach in the district school for the coming school year are as follows: Principal, Joseph Richards; Primary Department, lady from Salt Lake City, name unknown to your correspondent; Second Grade, Miss Hattie Scott; Third Grade, Miss Kate Taylor; Fourth Grade, Miss Juliet Adams; Sixth Grade, Mr. Samuel Hanks of Paragonah.

LEEDS.

Sept. 29th, 1903.

Mrs. Lizzie McFarlane of Cedar is visiting her mother Mrs. Brown.

Roy Harris of Long Valley is here visiting his brother William Harris.

Yesterday and to-day it has rained.

Mrs. Hattie Stirling has been sick this week.

Miss Mamie Olson is home again from St. George, where she has been working for some time.

Misses Ann and Etta McMullin and Miss Lyle Olsen will leave this week for school at Cedar City.

NORMAL NOTES.

Oct. 9, 1903.

The teachers' reception last Friday evening was a grand success, and a large number was in attendance.

Our school city government is now in full running order, Robert Thorley being appointed as chief of the police.

The students took charge of chapel exercises this morning. Mrs. Rosa Fuller spoke on the success of students in school.
